I received a free copy of a new magazine this past weekend, courtesy of Travel+Leisure and The Knot, called "Travel+Romance". Touted as "Your ultimate guide for Honeemoons, Destination Weddings, and Trips for Two", it does seem to have some very good material.

Besides the expected honeymoon/wedding destinations, there are several pages of content for resources and accessories. I found the articles useful, as they not only gave you the basic info for places to wed once at your location, but specifically tuned instructions concerning everything a couple would need to do before and after arrival.

Travel+Romance seems to be a useful resource for the couple planning their destination weddings or honeymoons, with a bit of extra fodder thrown in for the rest of the brides. Their website is not up at this moment, but is advertised to be up as of April 18.
